Department of Waterworks to address the problems. Additionally, they touched on the transfer of responsibilities from Amatola to Ndlambe, and the replacement of the Amatola Water Service Authority by a private company. Concerns were raised about the lack of due diligence, proper transfer process, and the new provider's ability to comply with environmental legislation. Lastly, Jacques expressed concerns about the lack of water infrastructure in Bushmans and Kenton, which will cause issues with sewage management due to the low capacity of sewage plants.

Jacques discussed the ongoing issues and future plans for the organization. The main problem was the lack of a report from an expert group regarding the 'dune' area, which has caused a confidence issue between the leadership of EC and the expert group. Jacques mentioned that Chester, as the new chairman, was working hard to get the report. They also discussed the need to refocus the organization, with Jacques suggesting that more attention should be placed on the estuary and that a separate boating club should be established.
